

Sierra Rasmussen

The Outstanding Student with a Disability Award recognizes a New Mexican undergraduate or graduate student with a disability who is enrolled in an institution of higher learning or is a senior in high school preparing to attend college. Sierra is taking accounting classes at San Juan College, and people are lining up for her services already. Congratulations to our own Sierra Rasmussen, who received the award at the 2005 Southwest Conference on Disability. Sierra got a $500 prize for this award!

And in case you're not sure that Sierra is well rounded or has her priorities straight, know that she also won a $500 prize for her Halloween costume at Big City nightclub in Farmington!
